

Dear Class of 2025,

Congratulations! Together with 411 classmates, you've made history at LAU.

Your class raised $11,329, and with a $15,000 matching gift from Mr. Philip Stoltzfus, former Chairman of the Board of Trustees, your total reached $26,329—enough to create the Graduating Class Endowed Scholarship.

This is no ordinary gift. An endowment is a permanent fund that supports students year after year, forever. Here's why this matters:

- It takes $25,000 to establish an endowment, and you did it!
- The fund is invested, and about 4% is paid out annually for scholarships.
- As future classes add to this fund, its impact will grow—and so will your legacy.

Because the principal remains intact, this scholarship will last in perpetuity, helping generations of LAU students pursue their dreams. That's something to be proud of.

Even more exciting: Mr. Stoltzfus has committed to repeat his matching gift for the next two graduating classes, so they too can step up and join you in building this lasting tradition.

To celebrate, your name joins the Honor Roll of the Graduating Class Endowed Scholarship, and a tree will be planted in the Stoltzfus Garden with a plaque honoring the Class of 2025—a living symbol of your unity and generosity.

Every gift mattered. Every donor made this possible. You've shown the true spirit of LAU: community, generosity, and vision. Thank you for leaving a lifelong mark on our university.

With gratitude and applause,

Juhi "Ginger" Dagli
